

WITH GLENN GOULD

With Glenn Gould is a collage that is four by thirty inches made in 1995. It consists of photographs of Glenn Gould's apartment, his stereo equipment, and various other personal and documentary pictures published by the German magazine DU in 1994. The funniest one is definitely the photograph of the gas station where Gould regularly got gas near his apartment in Toronto. The work attempted to playfully pay homage to Gould while having some fun with the cult of his myth. The work tries to mimic the rhythms of music but was not wholly successful. I returned to the theme – and the title – in a film based on appropriated images done in 2005.
